

I don't need to make this lengthy or eloquent.

If someone wants to get the ability to mail in their ballot then they need to make the effort to call their local town and request a ballot.

If they cannot make that effort then they have disenfranchised themselves.

There is a false narrative out there that voting needs to be easy. It needs to be easy when someone makes minimal effort to vote. When someone makes no effort to vote then elections are decided by the ignorant and the uninformed.

Thank you
